Primary Non-Compliance Grounding

Following an incident level producing event, in which non-compliance is identified as the primary reason for the incident occurring, the resident will be placed on a “grounded” status.

The resident is on the “grounded” status for a minimum of 5 days. Following the 5th day, the resident can apply to his/her treatment team to be taken of “grounded” status by completing and submitting the “Request to Get Off of Being Grounded” form.

While on “grounded” status, the following conditions will apply to the “grounded” resident.

- No off campus activities
- No entertainment devices
- No off campus passes
- In house recreation
- Staff transport only (ie to school)
- Program I privileges

After 2 days of being “grounded”, the resident can earn a radio for his/her room, provided that they have earned Program II. They must maintain Program II in order to keep the radio during the remainder of their “grounded” time.

Following the review of the resident’s “Request to Get Off of Being Grounded” form, the treatment team will decide when the resident comes of being “grounded”. If the resident has an additional “grounded” time assigned by the treatment team, then the resident must re-apply to be taken off.

TAMARACK CENTER DISCRIMINATION STATEMENT

Statement: Tamarack Center strives to provide individualized psychiatric care in an environment that is safe, supportive, and free of discrimination. Such acts that will not be tolerated involve negative connotations, slurs, or behavior directly related to a person's ethnic background, religious point of view, or sexual orientation. Tamarack Center' staff will address behavior that occurs in relation to residents making inappropriate comments or engaging in behavior that is not conducive to a safe milieu in relation to ethnic, religious, or sexual orientation. These behaviors can be directed towards residents and/or staff members. Staff will intervene when this behavior is displayed in a clinically appropriate and individualized manner. Assessment of the severity of the problem will occur along with on-going assessment of staff's intervention to curb this behavior.

When this behavior is displayed, staff may elect to initially write up an incident for verbal altercation and temporarily remove the resident from programming until processing has been completed. With recurring episodes, interventions can become more intensive and possibly include conducting a presentation for the other residents on discrimination, completing a discrimination curriculum, or having this behavior represented on their treatment plan and addressed in therapy sessions.

In any case, interventions will be treated on an individualized manner and may include other interventions not listed above. These occurrences will be tracked on incident reports, daily charting, and session notes. With more repetitive occurrences by the resident, the treatment plan will have it noted and the treatment team will review on a monthly basis.
